DESCRIPTION

For those who work from home, it is important to separate your work from your home life. What better way to do that than to have your office in a tree house? With clerestory windows, a single angle sloped roof, and plenty of space inside, the Office is a great way to get things done in a peaceful, productive environment. Add a skylight for more natural light to escape the fluorescent jungle. Enjoy work again when working in your new tree house Office.
